Published by the Students of

THORNTON FRACTIONAL TOWNSHIP HIGH SCHOOL

Calumet City, Illinois

We've taken a peek inside those notebooks tossed so carelessly into your lockers and we've pieced together from them a little story of school life here at Thornton Fractional and here it is —

Hope you'll like it.

let me see — what shall we tell first?

The 1941 chronoscope contains splendid pictures and stories of life at the Thornton Fractional Township High School during the past school year. Every Parker student, and friends of the school should cherish it as a most interesting and valuable souvenir. I shall cherish my copy greatly.

Albert Victor Lockhart

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Mr. Andrew Klein, Mr. Walter Dempsey, Mr. John Huck (president), Mr. James Kelly, and Mr. Albert Wahlgren.

Mr. George Hittle became the new member of the board when Mr. Huck retired, and Mr. James Kelly was elected by the board members to serve as president.

Although Mr. Leonard is dictating a letter to Dora Harthun, office girl, probably about Harold being given a two weeks' leave, his mind keeps wandering to his other duties. At the same time he may be wondering if someone got the wax for the dance floor for the Boys' Club Dance, how he can change Mary Smith's program so she will be free the last two periods, or why those N.Y.A. students haven't turned in their time. He may even be advising a bright senior on the best college to go to, making out an assignment for his American Problems class or calling Mr. Lockhart about some school problem.

Miss Schmidt has been caught in one of her rarest attitudes, sitting down. Even then she is checking T.B. X-ray slips with Margaret Klucker, one of the office girls. Any other day you will find her dashing through the office to see if everything is in shape for the Carnival, or whether the Thanksgiving baskets are filled or planning a Girls' Club party. She may even be consoling Janie who just lost her lipstick or advising her what to wear to a dance or warning that "those fingernails have to be cut" before she comes to typing class. Miss Schmidt is a busy woman, so step aside and give her room.

FACULTY

Most of us here at school know the teachers and the subjects they teach, but many of us are ignorant of the other duties they perform.

SENIORS SUM IT UP

Gee! It doesn't seem as if I've gone to T. F. for four years. Why, I remember it as plain as if it happened yesterday—that awful first week at T. F. All my trials and tribulations, not knowing where to find my locker and then not knowing how to open it after I found it, wandering into the wrong rooms and getting lost in the auto shop. Remember how proud our freshman class was when Kay Bertram made the Cheer Leader Varsity? Leona Kowalski, Jeanne O'Connor, Helen Ernst, Dorothy Becker made names for themselves in G. A. C.? Remember how Barbara Wright showed such remarkable skill at the piano that she became the Meistersingers' accompanist and was in demand at all the school parties? Do you recall the performance of Betty Gerold as the little sister in the Carnival?

The next September when we came back to school we felt so proud because we knew our way around and could look down on all the new freshies. And as always, the outstanding freshmen of the year before were back in the limelight again. Bernard Nondorf, Ed Jablonski,

SENIOR HONOR ROLL

Four years of hard work and these seniors were able to maintain an average grade of ninety or above in their four years:

KATHERINE BERTRAM
WILMA DOCKWEILER
JUNE DOE
MATHILDE FRIED
DOROTHY HOWARD
DONALD KOEHN
LEONA KOWALSKI
RITA KOWALSKI
GLADYS LEEDY
DOROTHY OKRAY
BERNICE OLSON
GLORIA POPPEN
NELLIE SWIERINGA
MARY TREBELLAS
JACOB VANDERBY
ERNEST VIERK
IRMA WINTERHOFF

Donald Koehn, Steve Sertic proved themselves valuable football players. Jeanne O'Connor and Gloria Poppen were outstanding Girls' Club Board members. Mary Trebellas was among the very small number of sophomores who became News Hawks members. Mildred Lammering and Florence Friduss started on their quest for ads for the THORNTONIAN by joining the business staff. Jimmie Anderson made a big splash on the swimming team. Do you recollect the organization of the Terrapin Club and how Kay Bertram was chosen for its first president?

Looking back over last year, do you recall how proud we were when Eddie Litzan was chosen captain of the Lightweight Basketball team? Joe Terre surely made a place for himself in the band. Gazing into the past you see the big success the junior play "Kentucky Belle", a Broadway success, made that year. Remember Pat Leonard, Frank Hill, Ellen McKenna, Anne Sestakaukas, Fred Green, Ed Swanson, Ernest Vierk all helped to make that evening entertaining? The Carnival was more successful because of the efforts of Nellie

CHAIRMEN OF THE SENIOR COMMITTEES

Senior Day—Jeanne O'Connor.
Class Will—Ernest Vierk.
Class Prophecy—Kay Bertram
Invitations—Jeanne Sibley.
Motto, Flower, and Color—Alice Deakun.

Swieringa, Leona Kowalski, Catherine Gloger, and Angelena Celano.

And now, as all good things must come to an end, so have our high school days drawn to an end. Gone are those happy days and hours spent in rehearsing for the senior play. The fellows will no longer feel the thrill of rushing out on the football field to win for old T. F. as they did under Captain Ben Nondorf. Eddie Litzan will not be given a chance to win any more championships in basketball for T. F. Our band members Irma Winterhoff, Alice Deakun, Myroslow Purko, and Ethel Snyder will no longer wear those snappy band uniforms. Florence Zick, Mildred Youse, and Delores Sulicz will not be present to twirl between the halves at football games. Those happy hours spent in Terrapin Club and G. A. C. are all past now and come back again only in our memories.

Good-bye, T. F., we've had a grand time in your halls, and you will always have a big place in our memories.

THE JUNIORS TELL WHAT THEY LOOK FORWARD TO NEXT YEAR AND ADMIT THEIR PET EXPRESSIONS.

I certainly am proud of my junior class, and well I might be, for they have accomplished many outstanding things during this year.

I wish I had the intelligence of Wilfred Kraegel, who topped the Honor Roll every six weeks, and Albert Walhgren, who was good competition for him. Why, then, I would almost be a genius. But I did make the Honor Roll every time.

And the junior play, "Imaginary Invalid," was so good that I sat spellbound throughout the performance. Perhaps some of our juniors will become future stars of the stage and screen.

Stanley Sonnenberg surely was a hero after running 98 yards for a touchdown; and with the ability that Louis Galik, Joe Hill, James Giglio, Harold Perkins, Tom Shaffer, Russell Buhring, Pete Bereolos, and Charles Cullum showed this year, our next year's football team is sure to win the South Suburban League championship.

Wish you could have seen the senior girls in G. A. C. when Nora Heimbuch, Harriet Drabek, Virginia Fedosky, Dorothy Krass and their teammates defeated them in the Captain Basketball Tournaments. They were speechless. The juniors have been stiff competition in all the sports.

Since six varsity members, including Edgar Thedens, who qualified for the National Speech contest, will return to debate next year, maybe we will go to the state finals again.

Teddy Pieztrak even outscored Eddie Litzan in one of the basketball tournaments, and that is really good. Louis Galik, Russell Buhring, and Sherm Stoll will ably fill the vacancies of the varsity next year.

The expert precision of the mermaids, Elizabeth Hesselbarth, Virginia Fedosky, Alma and Fay Sausamas, Evelyn Dabich, and Marie Mayer displayed in the Carnival Water Show and the Annual Water Show helped to make each a big success.

I have asked the juniors what they are looking forward to in their senior year and their characteristic phrase and now read on and meet my classmates.

A Very Proud Junior.

Sammy Sophomore and Fannie Freshman were reminiscing over the past records of the sophomore and freshman classes.

"Our freshman G. A. C. team composed of such outstanding players as Betty McCloskey, Florence Lorenz, Wayneta Dyer, and Betty Rentner sure gave the sophomores hard battles, and if Abby Abblett, Barbara Gilbreath, Jeanette Klein, Norma Urbanski, and Lillian Hudzik hadn't had so much speed and skill we would have won almost all the Freshmen-Sophomore Tournaments.

"The varsity certainly will find good players on our freshmen-sophomore team. Just watch Chester Mazur, Jack La Noue, and Bill Archer, and those two freshmen, Fred Slinkard and Mike Nagy are not to be sneezed at either. Yes sir, we really are good!"

"Oh, quit bragging," Fannie remarked, "you'd think you were everything. Look at our freshmen-sophomore debaters. Evelyn and Erma Ault lost only a few matches and Richard Sikorski and Gordon Buffington aren't doing so bad, and Florence Lynn will be on the varsity next year."

Then too, let us add, our Lightweight Basketball team had several outstanding freshmen and sophomores. There was Art Ollrich, Ed Kuhlman, and Ed Skarwecki who with the aid of freshmen Wally Horvatich and Charlie Gallota won many thrilling victories for the squad.

When it comes to music and the finer arts, our classes aren't left out of the picture. Mr. McPhail's Double Sextet would be in a bad way if it weren't for Phyllis Nordaker, Thelma Hoggatt, Doris Recker, and Lila Mae Winterhoff. The Girls' Chorus is also grateful to the sophomores who have become very valuable to them during the past year.

Do you remember the Boys' Sports Carnival? Orville Ragoven gave everybody a thrill with his unusual serve in ping-pong. Bill Eby and Jack Thaldorf provided the wrestling enthusiasts with many exciting moments. Jim Lietzan, Don Heintz, Jack Miller and Eugene Sobczak adding punches in boxing were another interest.

This certainly proves to good old T. F. that we youngsters are ready to take the place of the upper classmen. There won't be much to worry about because everything will be in good hands. Don't you think so?

SUPER SUPERS

POSTURE QUEEN—Marie Cole

For the first time in our school's history we had a Posture Queen. She was chosen from a group of sixteen final contestants who had been selected by Miss Shemaitis from her gym and swimming classes.

The other fifteen final contestants were: Elizabeth Hasselbarth, Dorothy Fanta, Faye Sausaman, Dorothy Howard, Pat Lauerman, Ellen McKenna, Genevieve Brown, Loretta Skarbek, Jane Albiniak, Charlene Pike, Joanne Van Slyke, Evelyn Hunter, Evelyn Wielgos, Leona Kowalski and Catherine Gloger.

MISS THORNTON FRACTIONAL—Gloria Poppen

As in years past, a senior was chosen to be Miss Thornton Fractional at the News Hawks Hop. Gloria Poppen, a very popular and versatile girl, won the coveted title.

D. A. R. REPRESENTATIVE—Jeanne O'Connor

Always a cheery smile for everyone, a super-super salesman, our Girls' Club President, a faithful G. A. C. member; in fact, a typical T. F. student—that just about sums up Jeanne O'Connor. And to climax her high school days she was selected by the faculty and the girls as the D. A. R. Representative of our school.

EDGAR THEDENS—State Champion in Extemporaneous Speaking

The Patrick Henry of T. F.—that's Edgar Thedens. Sweeping his way through the district, winning the State Championship for extemporaneous speaking, where he competed with the best speakers from high schools all over the state of Illinois, and finally he traveled to Lexington, Kentucky, where he lost out in the semi-finals, after winning the honor of being among the ten best speakers in the country.

KING AND QUEEN OF THE CARNIVAL—Ellen McKenna, Donald Koehn

Ellen McKenna, who thrills hearts of boys at T. F., the friend of every girl, a good student and a loyal sports follower, was elected to be Queen of the Carnival.

Donald Koehn, an ace football player, a brilliant scholar, the top salesman, the ideal of the underclassmen, got the well-deserved title of King of the Carnival.

GLADYS LEEDY LOOKS OVER HER DEBATE NOTES

Boy, we had a swell debate season this year! I've just been figuring up and we took part in over 350 debates and made trips totaling over 2,000 miles. There were over fifty students that actually debated; also we have the largest debate club in this part of the country as regards the number of debaters, the number of debates, and the expense account.

Our varsity squad of eight teams, coached by Mr. Allen, placed first in the Hammond High Tournament in November.

When we had our tournament, we placed tenth out of ten schools.

The next week, we came through with flying colors and took undisputed first place in the Rockford Tournament, where twenty-three schools competed. Edgar Thedens, Florence Lynn, Bob Biederman, Billy Gibbons, Gladys Leedy, and Wilfred Kraegel made the trip with Mr. Allen and Mr. Davis.

They didn't give decisions at Hinsdale, but Edgar Thedens and Corinne Tarras received very high individual ratings.

After Christmas, first came Elkhart. We placed first again, sharing honors with two other schools. Then we invaded La Porte and tied for second place.

Mr. Allen and Mr. Davis took us to Rock Island to Augustana College, where we had loads of fun but we failed to place.

Mr. Allen took the debaters and Mr. Davis took the speech people to Charleston, Illinois, where also we had only fun to show for it because we failed to place.

When the National Forensic League held their tournament at Elgin, we went there with nothing to gain because no Illinois schools could go to the Nationals.

Then we went to Decatur and tied for second place in their Invitational Tournament. Here Mr. Allen took only four debaters: Edgar Thedens, Florence Lynn, Bob Biederman, and Billy Gibbons.

And then we had our two leagues, the Interstate Debate League, composed of Illinois and Indiana schools, and the Metropolitan Union, composed of the schools of Chicago and vicinity. We gave Clark a good fight to take second place in the Interstate League but we triumphed over her and many other schools to win two trophies (one a traveling cup and the other our very own) in the Metropolitan Debate Union.

When the district meet was held here at T. F. the debaters succeeded in placing high enough to be entitled to go to the State Finals held at Urbana, but they did not qualify to go to the Nationals.

THEY TALKED THEMSELVES TO FAME

Talk . . . talk . . . talk! We can make you laugh or cry, or even start you thinking politically all in a few minutes; but, at least we succeeded in impressing a number of people at the various meets we attended. We took part in meets at Elgin, Hammond, Charleston, and Clark.

When spring came it also brought the payoff for all the work the kids had put into their various speeches. At the National Forensic League tournament at Elgin, Thedens took first place in extemporaneous speaking and won an invitation to the National tournament in Lexington, Kentucky.

Then the district speech and debate tournament were held here and Betty Gerold placed first in serious and second in poetry reading; Albert Wahlgren placed first in original oratory; Irma Winterhoff placed second in oratorical declamation; Doris Follick placed second in humorous reading; and Thedens again took high honors in extemporaneous speaking.

To make a long story short, T. F. won first place and the entire squad and Mr. Davis went to the State Meet at Urbana. Here again Thornton Fractional made good because they came home with the second place cup, and two contestants, Betty Gerold and Edgar Thedens, eligible for the National Contest.

At Lexington, Kentucky, where 900 of the best high school speakers in the country gathered for the National Contest, Betty Gerold and Edgar Thedens carried the banner of Thornton Fractional. Mr. Davis accompanied them to the meet. Edgar carried the load through the preliminaries and the semi-finals and finished tenth of all contestants entered. Betty Gerold was eliminated after three rounds in serious reading and lasted to the quarter-finals in poetry.

JEANNE O'CONNOR GIVES AWAY SOME SELLING SECRETS

"What color ticket would you like to buy? I have yellow ones, green ones, red ones, white ones and blue ones. Tickets for the Big and Little Sister Party—only one nickel, and tickets for our first football game against Amundsen—just 20c. There you have a chance to see our football team in action, dressed in new uniforms, ready to launch a spectacular season. How about a pretty red ticket for the Hammond Tech game? We will play under the Hammond High lights and we surely want a crowd to see the Tech Tigers try to break a 29 game losing streak.—And you—oh, such, pretty blue eyes—for only 25c you can purchase the most beautiful blue ticket you have ever seen, and that ticket will get you by the ticket taker for the Carnival stage show. That is going to be a real show too. With Mr. McPhail directing and Miss Shemaitis assisting, how could that show be anything but good?

"I can sell you any color ticket you can name—so step right up and fill your pockets with the colors of the rainbow!!"

Donald Koehn and Jeanne O'Connor, Miss Jaack's star salesmen, sell every kind of ticket printed. They never pass up a chance to serve their fellow students. They were among the three high salesmen in every field. Between them they sold 2,112 of 11,607 tickets sold all year. That is 18% of the total. Donald was the high ticket salesman this year (his first year out, by the way) by selling 1,102 tickets while Jeanne, in her fourth year as a salesman, sold 1,010 tickets.

In the lower left hand corner of the opposite page you see 32 of the top-notch Thorntonian salesmen. These students showed their school spirit by getting out with their sales sheets and actually selling a total of 1350 subscriptions for the whole year. This is, undoubtedly, a laudable accomplishment.

In the lower right hand corner is the picture of the outstanding football ticket salesmen. If they weren't so enthusiastic there never would have been such huge crowds at the football games.

The seven high basketball ticket salesmen, pictured in the upper right hand corner accounted for a good share of the crowds present at the home games. Don't you think these kids, stooges to some of you, deserve a word of praise every now and then? They get out and do things for the school. They are probably pests to you but you wouldn't think so if you had to pay 35c at the door.

In the upper left hand corner you see the assembly ticket salesmen. They sold tickets to the Dearborn Orchestra concert, the senior movie, the Amateur show and many others.

But to Miss Jaacks goes the credit for organizing a sales staff so that it functions effectively and efficiently.

In the morning announcements you probably remember hearing an announcement like this, "All students who want to sell tickets to the movie report to room 221 between 8:00 and 8:30 tomorrow morning."

The next morning about 20 salesmen would flock in the door and scramble for tickets. In nothing flat they would be shouting in the halls like this, "Here ya' are kids—tickets for the best movie a runnin'—right here. . . . Say, you're gonna get your ticket from me aren't ya'? I'll see you tomorrow in the cafeteria. Don't forget to bring your money!!!"

That's the way it goes. Never an idle moment for Miss Jaacks's salesmen. And why not? Miss Jaacks puts her heart and soul into it. She takes time to have those tickets made and she sits up in her room at noon waiting for her salesmen to bring in their money and take out more tickets. She is the one who is really responsible for the success of the ticket sellers this year.

IT'S THE GIRLS WHO RUN THE LIBRARY!

Stacking books, filing cards, checking returned books, making out fines, repairing books are a few of the many tasks which keep each Library Club member busy while she is working in the library. Each member spends one hour in the library keeping it orderly and assisting the students in finding the reference and fiction books they desire.

(Right Bottom). Whenever you enter the library work shop you will find Shirley Blackburn, Nora Snyder, Norma Goyke, Faye Sausaman, Virginia Sulicz busily typing new cards, filing old magazines and new books, and mending torn pages and books.

AY BERTRAM BRAGS

It looks as if the Girls' Club came through this year with ing colors. Every activity seemed to be a bigger success m the last.

The Big and Little Sister Party on September 12 started year off and the Girls' Club Dance on October 18, was a ather in their cap!

Spooks, witches, and black cats couldn't scare the girls vay from the Hallowe'en Party on October 31. Games, prizes, ncing, and taffy apples made the traditional party a bang- affair.

During Christmas they also sold Christmas seals for the berculosis drive and dressed dolls to be sent to the orphan- es. The Faculty Tea on December 15 can't be left out when u think of Christmas in the Girls' Club. The sight of the blue d silver Christmas tree and all the nuts, cookies, and sand- ches assured you Christmas was almost here.

Miss Schmidt, due to illness, wasn't able to attend the umnae Party given on February 11. The girls were disap- inted, but nevertheless the party was a success. Remember e class stunts and quiz program?

Rolling wheels, and what a racket they made! I'm talk- g about the Boys' and Girls' Club roller skating party with record crowd on March 17.

Bow day on May 1 found us wearing big tissue paper ows! Green, orange, blue, and red bows, a sight to rival ny other in school.

The year ended with their most impressive event, the other-Daughter Party on May 2. You won't forget the school lent that performed nor the awarding of the T. F. pins, nor l the mothers wearing pink carnations and accompanied by roud daughters. The candle lighting ceremony will always e remembered as the chief thrill of that evening, only sur- assed by the moment when Virginia Fedosky, the new presi- ent, walked down the arch of lighted candles with Jeanne 'Connor. That moment alone, if no other, will always remind ou of this past year in Girls' Club.

SO DOES TOMMY SHAFFER

T. F.'s largest organization, the Boys' Club, proved itself well worth belonging to during the past year. Under the leadership of three officers and ten representatives elected from the boys of the student body, this organization has completed one of its most active years.

The date of the first event sponsored by the Boys' Club was September 25, when a party was given for the incoming freshman boys. The frosh were welcomed by Mr. Leonard, club sponsor and dean of boys, and then they were treated to a thrilling motion picture and refreshments.

On November 29 at the annual Carnival the Boys' Club was once again active in bringing in the dollars and walked away with the second prize for bringing in the largest profit.

The Boys' and Girls' Clubs jointly sponsored a roller skating party on March 17 which was attended by approximately 300 students.

Mr. C. J. Albrecht, adventurer, explorer, and curator for the Field Museum of Chicago headlined the program for the Father and Sons' Party held on March 28. He lectured on Ethiopia and showed both colored slides and motion pictures on the subject. Also on the program were several intramural boxing matches and pie and ice cream were served in the band room.

The main social activity of the year took the form of the annual Boys' Club dance. It was held on April 28 in a tropical setting to the tropical strains of Morellie's Melodeer.

The year was rounded out with acts of mercy such as furnishing clothing for less fortunate boys and sending flowers to families who suffered bereavement.

IRMA WINTERHOFF TELLS HOW SHE BECAME EDITOR

As I look back over the years I spent working on the Thorntonian, I recall many happy memories. I remember being in Miss Moe's freshman English class together with many other students who later worked with me on the Thorntonian. I remember the thrill we all got when Miss Moe told us that we were going to have a class project, and this was to be a class paper. We all slaved to get out a super-sweli paper, and after we had a little experience we divided the class into several staffs to get out several papers.

And then, Miss Moe asked if any of the class would like to help with the Thorntonian. Oh joy! Just imagine working on the Thorntonian! High hopes arose in my head just as they probably crept into the heads of my classmates. My hand shot up, and then Miss Moe told me to come in during my free period and give it a try. Now I thought I'd really get a chance to write articles for the Thorntonian.

First hand stooge, that was me throughout my entire work in the staff room while I was a freshman. I had to check names, count words, distribute assignment slips, run after ink and paper, sharpen pencils, and everything from soup to nuts. But I was gaining experience.

When the school year ended, Miss Moe said she was going to do something handsome for me because I was always so eager and ready to work. I came back to school in the fall anxiously awaiting my promotion. Now I was a sophomore and with that whole year's experience of stooging behind me, I would probably get to be assistant editor. Well, the day came when I was promoted. But I wasn't even given a staff position. I was to write REWRITES for the Lansing paper. Oooooohhhh!!!

We worked hard during that year in journalism class, and now we were going to be rewarded at a supper. I was sitting at the supper trying to listen to the speaker, but thoughts were racing back and forth through my head, and I couldn't keep my mind on what he was saying. Next year. I'd be a senior. Maybe, maybe I'd be editor, oh, but I daren't think of it; I've been disappointed too much; I don't want to be disappointed again, but I hope, I hope. Finally Miss Moe got up to announce the next year's staff. I held my breath—don't think about it! Don't expect it!! DON'T!! And then, my name. My goal had at last been reached. I was editor.

Looking back over the past year, I remember the times I'd had to holler at Joe Lietzan for not getting his stuff in on time, or for having too many words. I remember how Donald Koehn was the true Dead Line Kid. He always got his articles in on time and was always willing to do more. I'll never forget those long hours I spent after school, those long dreadful hours on Friday nights finishing up the work the others had failed to do: hurriedly writing, frantically typing, carefully scanning the copy for errors and then nearly finished being told to get out of the building by "Con," our over-zealous janitor.

Yes, I've really enjoyed my work on the Thorntonian. It's a grand experience for anyone. It's entertaining and it's educational, and it's an experience I'll forever cherish.

Of course, it's the Chronoscope staff under the general supervision of Esther Gaither, the Editor-in-Chief (seated). Every seventh period on Tuesday and Thursday, Bernice Olson types the articles handed in. Rose Dunlap assisted by Mary Trebellas (not in picture) worked hours writing and checking the senior section before it was sent to the printers. The co-editors of the junior section were Sophie Sarros and Nelda Berger. Dorothy Okray also did Chronoscope typing.

"IMAGINARY INVALID" HIGHLY RATED

The junior play, "The Imaginary Invalid" presented on March 14, proved to be one of the juniors' biggest achievements during the year. Out of a group of fifteen high schools and colleges who presented the play, the junior cast, directed by Mr. Angus McPhail, was chosen as one of the three best and was invited to Whiting High School on May 24 to present the second act.

The forever ailing Imaginary Invalid was well enacted by Jack Riota who was continually teased by his mischievous maid. Betty Ann Rappe. The romantic angle of the play was provided by Harvey Dean as the handsome hero, and Elizabeth Hesselbarth as the beautiful daughter of the Imaginary Invalid. The scheming gold digger, the wife of the Imaginary Invalid, eagerly awaiting his death was Adelaide Miller. The outstanding supporting cast included Lillian Horst as the Imaginary Invalid's youngest daughter, Bob Rentner as his brother, Eugene Annen as the crafty lawyer, Harold Perkins, the apothecary, Kenyon Tweedell, a doctor and a disgrace to his profession, and Richard Keller, another doctor who tried to wed his son, played by Stanley Dembowski, to the Imaginary Invalid's beautiful daughter.

CAST OF "AMERICA FIRST"
Eddie Swanson, Jeanne O'Connor, Frank Hill, Gloria Poppen, Joe Terre, Betty Gerold, Fred Green, Irma Winterhoff, Donald Koehn, Jeanne Sibley, Keith Howmiller.

"AMERICA FIRST" FRANKLY A PROPOGANDA PLAY

"All the world's a stage, and all the men and women merely players. They have their exits and their entrances—." At this point let us interrupt to say that the "world" is our school and the men and women just the students. The stage is set for "America First," the Senior Play and there is old Bill Shakespeare (Angus McPhail) telling his cast just what to do.

"I say there, Lee, thou dost not speak that line correctly, and thou, Lizzy, shouldst put more emotional feeling into that last line. Gladys, thou art a victim of juvenile emotionalism and thou must remember that thine own feelings of affection are not returned. Ye gods, Grandfather, thou art too spry for an elderly gentleman! Yea, Dorothy, Owen and thou are doing fine. Franz, thou must keep thy military bearing and do not forget that thou art a sleek individual with an ingratiating manner. Ola, the accent, thou must not forget it. Mrs. Holmes, dost thou know what it means to get angry? And thou must not forget that thou art an officer of the police, Frank. And thou, Jimmy Banks, must remember that a rather shady person does not indulge in laughter every time something amuses him!"

To put all this aside, the Senior Play, "America First," was presented by the senior class of 1941, on May 9. As usual the play was a big success and everyone who saw it enjoyed it a great deal.

And here is the story. Grandpa Holmes (Ed Swanson) is a thin, stoop-shouldered, trembly old man of 96. He has no patience with Elizabeth Boggs, (Jeanne O'Connor) the middle-aged housekeeper, who is a fussy, nervous woman with a red face and work-worn hands and she has little tolerance with Lee, (Donald Koehn) the young man who, with Jimmy Banks, (Keith Howmiller) a rather tough character, gets mixed up with foreign agents. As the plot thickens, Ola (Gloria Poppen) and Franz (Frank Hill), the spies, influence Jimmy and Lee more and more, until Mrs. Holmes (Betty Gerold), Lee's mother discovers the whole thing. Dorothy (Irma Winterhoff) Lee's sister, and Owen (Fred Green) her sweetheart, discover the theft of important plans which Frank Holmes (Joe Terre), Lee's uncle, finds on Ola Kring. In the meantime, Gladys Calay (Jeanne Sibley), the young lady who likes Lee, turns up with some damaging evidence. But then of course all things must end and so did this with everybody in his proper place.

TWELFTH ANNUAL CARNIVAL STAGED NOVEMBER 29th

"Hurry, hurry, hurry, folks! Don't miss it. It's the Twelfth Annual Carnival of Thornton Fractional Township High School! No pushing now! Come on everybody! Main show will be on in a few minutes. It's the show of a life-time. Right this way to the big top—I mean gym, to see the ga-ratest show on earth! The Scandals of 1940!"

Well, there's no doubt about that sir! Everybody knows that the Carnival is the garatest show on earth and always will be.

On Friday, November 29, 1940 at 8 P.M., the students of Thornton Fractional presented their Twelfth Annual Carnival "Scandals of 1940," under the direction of Miss Mary Shemaitis, Miss Helen Brazzill, Mr. Harold Christian, and Mr. Angus McPhail.

The first number of the main show was a ballet dance with the Girls' Chorus for accompaniment. The chorus sang "Lieberstrum" and "Sweet Songs of Long Ago," and the girls glided gracefully across the stage. Then Rita Wright did a solo tap dance followed by Lorraine Kimmet, singing a cowboy song. Just before the double sextette sang "Sibonney" and "Wedding of the Painted Doll" there was a chorus of soft shoe dancers. Kay Bertram did an acrobatic dance and, not to be out done, Myrl Larrance sang.

But now, fun for all, the W.L.S. Barn Dance a la T.F. followed by a more soothing melody by Irma and Lila Mae Winterhoff. A bit of old Heidelberg, starring Joe Terre and his cornet was next on the program. From the German to the Latin! Conga and—Six Lessons From Madam La Zonga sung by Angeline Vitale. Everybody knows that variety is the spice of life so we now give you a dance by the Deep Sea Pirates and then came the Devils in the roller skating act by Betty Dobbins and Dick Trammel.

Now—Mr. Bernard Nondorf, Mr. Archibald Ross, Mr. Donald Koehn, Mr. Dominic Vitale, Miss Henrietta Bobak, Miss Russela Buhring, Miss Eddie Jablonski, and Miss "Tommie" Shaffer came forth with the Ballet "L" Exquizeet." It's enough to kill anybody.

From the extreme to the sublime as a fair damsel, June

Doe by name, sings "Only Forever" and really makes one believe those words. And what could be more fitting in this day than the patriotic finale that closed the show?

But that's not all! Oh no, not by a long shot. We've still got all the concessions to see. The fish pond, the turkey raffle, Library Club games, Girls Club balloon race, fun, fun, fun, and more fun! And the Water Carnival would have been a success by itself. Then dancing to the melodious strains of Johnny Kay and his orchestra and finally the crowning of the King and Queen of the Carnival of 1940, Ellen McKenna and Donald Koehn! The greatest show on earth? You bet! Not only was it the best show as far as entertainment goes, but just feast your eyes on the Carnival financial report below, and you'll come to the conclusion that it was the best show financially, too.

The stage show brought in $352.25; the dance, $137.75; the various concessions, $681.71, making total receipts $1061.71. The total expenses were $771.92, making a total profit of $684.56.

The funds were distributed as follows: entertainment fund, $277.82; publications, $205.36; Girls' Club, $102.69; and Boys' Club, $102.69.

WIN SIXTH SOUTH SUBURBAN CHAMPIONSHIP

Thornton Fractional's 1940 grid team — a pre-season underdog because it lacked experienced players — went through a nine game schedule in grand style, upsetting several highly-touted elevens, and in so doing, brought to T. F. its sixth South Suburban league championship. This fine-working unit won six encounters, lost one, and tied two in completing its schedule. Of the six conference games, the Meteors won five and tied one.

With but seven of twenty-two lettermen returning from the 1939 squad, Coach Petree worked hard in moulding what proved to be a championship eleven. Credit should also be given to Assistants Kelly and Young for performing necessary scouting duties and for coaching the reserve and under-class squads.

The No. 1 game on the schedule was set for September 13 with Amundsen of Chicago and predictions as to the outcome of the contest were lacking, due to the fact that not much was known of the Big City aggregation, except that it was one of the stronger teams in the Chicago City league. But all doubt as to the strength of the Meteors vanished when they crushed their non-league opponents by a 25-8 score.

Next on the list was Hammond Tech. The Tigers were easy victims of the Meteors in 1939 so perhaps last season's Fractional team was a little over-confident, for the Hammond outfit upset the Purple and Gold to the tune of 7 to 6 on the Hammond High field. It was the Meteors' only loss of the season.

The team traveled to Kankakee on September 27 and definitely announced its championship intentions by copping a 26-7 victory from the Kays.

The Meteors were top-heavy favorites to beat Blue Island when the two teams met on Fractional field but the Islanders forced our boys to go the limit in gaining the 6-0 decision for T. F.'s second conference victory. The champs showed great defensive play in holding the Mound City boys to a net rushing gain of four yards.

Revenge-seeking Thornton of Harvey came to town the next week and against this eleven the Petreemen played their best game of the season, winning by a 14-7 reading. Our ancient rival was the victim of long runs with intercepted passes which caused its downfall.

After two weeks' rest Fractional faced its greatest test — that of meeting Bloom. The 1939 title-holders were slated to repeat for the crown and rightfully so, what with eight regulars of the championship team returning. But, although handicapped by having to play on the opponent's field, the Meteors played stellar ball and earned a 6-6 tie with their more experienced and stronger rival.

The roaring Meteors virtually clinched the South Suburban league title on November 2 when they defeated the, until then unbeaten and untied, Argo eleven by a 13 to 6 count. This victory gave the Petreemen undisputed possession of first place.

The Purple and Gold copped the coveted crown on November 8 when they handed Lockport a 37-6 shellacking in a contest that was sparked by the play of the Fractional reserves.

Fractional completed its schedule by playing a 0-0 tie with Catholic Central of Hammond. The Meteors, relieved of conference-game pressure, let up a bit and thus had to be content in playing an even ball game.

CALL OUT THE RESERVES

AFTER CHAMPIONSHIP LOCKPORT GAME

COACH WILBUR PETREE

JOE HILL—"Jerry" was the pass-catching genius of the team. He also played a fine defensive game at LEFT END. Hill will be a three year man next season. HENRY BOBAK—"Hank," the red head, was one of the stalwarts in the line and worked his LEFT TACKLE position to perfection. His greatest thrill was scoring a touchdown on an 85 yard run with a pass interception against Lockport. BERNARD NONDORF—"Ben," captain of the champs, was outstanding in line play. He was chosen all-league LEFT GUARD. Played his best game against Wallenberg and Weishaar of Bloom, each 225 pounders. JOHN PADIEN—"Bull," Padjen No. 3 of T. F. gridiron fame, is an excellent CENTER who will be back next year as co-captain. Broke up many a play. He stood out in the Harvey game. ARCHIE ROSS—"All-American," always anxious to play in the backfield, was needed more at RIGHT GUARD. He likes body contact. Only a junior, he'll play next season, too. He wants to make a score. ROBERT LONG—"Bud" found himself after two or three games and really played great ball as the season progressed. At RIGHT TACKLE he exhibited fine defensive play and really starred in the Harvey game. EDWARD LITZAN—"Eddie" was a great team player. He was heady and could diagnose plays with great skill. An uncertain insertion at RIGHT END at the beginning of the season, he proved he had what it takes. DONALD KOEHN—"Sugar" was one of the greatest field generals in Fractional's history. He took advantage of every opportunity. He held the team together. All-league QUARTER BACK selection. The diminutive speedster took a terrific beating but displayed great sportsmanship at all times. Great runner. Scored on many a long run. JOHN SCHUTZ—"Schutz" was a coming star at LEFT HALF when he was laid low with appendicitis. The best man on the field in the Meteor-Tech battle. Against Amundsen he ran 71 yards for a score. Schutz was a hard fighter and a terrific tackler. DOMINICK VITALE—"Dom" was the blocking specialist of the title team. He'll be co-captain with Padjen next fall. Though the RIGHT HALF doesn't carry the ball in the Petree system vitale reminded one of the main cogs in the offensive machine by cutting down the opponent's secondary. WILLIAM DeCAMP—"Bill" was a powerful plunger and an all-around player. He was an expert passer and backed up the line with keen ability. His FULLBACK post was the natural spot for the big junior. Best in the KKK and Argo contests. COLOGER MONESTERE—"Stoney" was a reserve tackle who could always be depended upon to fill in and stop plays. RICHARD NORDAKER—"Dick" played regular center on several occasions and was a fine defensive lineman. JAMES GIGLIO and STANLEY SONNENBERG—"Jim" and "Stan" must be mentioned in the same breath because they took turns at Schutz's vacated left half spot. Giglio scored on a neat run against Lockport, and Sonnenberg's 98 yard gallop against Harvey will never be forgotten. ROOSEVELT SIDOTE—"Sidote" was a quiet ball player, but he didn't have to say much, for his actions proved he had the makings of a good lineman. Watch him next fall. EDWARD JABLONSKI—"Jabo" was the team's utility backfield man in that he could and did play each of the four positions. Starred at fullback against Argo. MATTHEW AUGUSTYNEK—"Micky" was a watch charm guard who was fearless in mid-line play. Though small in stature he was able to stop big fullbacks when they came his way. THOMAS SHAFFER—"Tom," rewarded by his hard work at left end, started several battles. A good tackler, Shaffer will develop into a fine ball player by next season. LEWIS GALIK—"Lew" is a dandy pass receiver and his height will be an asset to the tossing attack of the coming season's team. He caught a nice buck throw for a score against Lockport. PHILLIP ADAMKIEWICZ—"Adam" was really a good MANAGER and was well liked by all of the players. He looked after the boys as if they were his brothers. He always had everything under control as far as his duties were concerned.

YOUTH TRAINS FOR FUTURE VICTORIES

With eyes to the future Coach Young gathered together a group of twenty-five boys early in November, 1940, in preparation for the on-coming basketball season. Of this group only two players were seniors, while ten were juniors, one was a sophomore, and another was a freshman. Not one of the twenty-five was a varsity letterman.

With this comparatively green squad to work with, the Coach knew he couldn't, in a period of three months, build a team of championship calibre. But the Meteors played a fine brand of ball throughout the season and at times, as for example, during the regional tournament, showed surprising form in defeating teams of noted ability which were supposed to have no trouble in disposing of the Fractional quintet.

Fractional's first encounter in the Chicago Heights regional meet was marked by an impressive victory over Manteno. The Youngmen then upset Bloom, but lost to Joliet in the final. Being a regional finalist entitled T. F. to play in the sectional tourney at Waukegan where the Meteors lost to Morton of Cicero, who went on to win the state title.

The Youngmen opened the season by losing a close one to Morgan Park. The next three games marked sweet victories for the Purple and Gold as Blue Island, George Rogers Clark, and Kankakee fell victims.

But the win streak was short-lived, for in the next five contests the Meteors scored nary a victory. Lockport, Argo, Tolleston, Bloom, and Mooseheart were conquerors of T. F.

GRADUATING LETTERMEN

Ed Litzan and Hank Bobak.

EDWARD LITZAN—"Eddie," the captain of the team, was one of the best players ever to wear the Purple and Gold, scoring over 200 points throughout the season. HENRY BOBAK—"Hank" was a dependable floor guard who could work the ball in with expert precision. He and Litzan were the only seniors on the squad. LEWIS GALIK—"Lew" was the big center who came through to make himself a fine pivot player in his junior year. ARCHIE ROSS—"Slim" was a good ball handler and thrilled the fans by sinking his unorthodox shots. TED PIETRZAK—"Teddy" entered at mid-year and gained a position on the first team right away as a reward for his fine playing. DOMINICK VITALE—"Dom" was one of the best ball handlers on the team, and his cool play held the quintet together during tense periods. SHERMAN STOLL—"Sherm," the tall sophomore center, always played a fine game especially in getting rebounds and controlling the ball. RUSSELL BUHRING—"Russ" was a fast player and sparked the team no little with his fighting attitude and driving play. CLARENCE MACIEJEWSKI—"Smiley" was one of the jolliest managers in T. F.'s history and he was an ace right-hand man to the Coach.

Other players who displayed good form when given a chance to play were Francis Jones, Russell Lenhoff, Fred Slinkard, Wayne McMullin, Tom Shaffer, Jim Giglio, Charles Cullum, and Michael Kieras.

In the next four league battles, the Youngmen split even, beating Blue Island and Lockport, and losing to Kankakee and Harvey.

The team found central state competition to its liking when it traveled to Gilman to soundly defeat the host school. But this win marked the last in regular season play for the Meteor five as the four remaining games were lost to Harvey, Argo, Bloom, and Mooseheart.

LIGHTS TRAIN FOR 1941-1942

Handicapped by the lack of experienced players Coach Kiester knew at the start of the 1940-41 basketball season that the task of retaining the South Suburban hardwood title would be an almost impossible one.

So, instead of concentrating on the title drive alone, he also gave thought to the seasons to come and, by doing this, he brought together a winning quintet which, with one or two exceptions will be back next year with the hope of recapturing the crown for Fractional.

The lightweights started the season in grand style by winning their first four games. Morgan Park, Blue Island, Clark, and Kankakee were laid low by the small Kiesterites.

Lockport dealt T. F. its first league loss on the Porter court, but the Meteor Jrs. got back on the win trail by defeating their next five opponents. Crete was beaten twice and Argo, Tolleston, and Bloom were the other victims.

Here the lights hit a snag and fell before Mooseheart, Blue Island, and Harvey. The next week T. F. again triumphed over KKK and a week later gained revenge on Lockport.

Harvey, co-champs with Blue Island, crushed the Kiestermen's title hopes but the boys licked Argo handily.

Bloom and Mooseheart captured the remaining seasonal tilts by close margins.

Entering the Blue Island invitational tournament as 1940 champs Fractional received a setback in their first encounter, being eliminated by Blue Island.

TANKERS BREAK EVEN

The Meteor swim team enjoyed a good season during 1940-41 as they drowned seven and tied two of their sixteen opponents. Coach Kelly had but four lettermen returning from last year's squad and he built the remainder of the team around these boys.

Those who gained swimming monograms this year were: Robert Sausaman—"Bob" was chosen honorary captain by his fellow tankers and really showed his stroking ability at all times.

ORVAL MEYER—"Orv" swam the 220 free style and added many a point to the Meteors' total. JAMES ANDERSON—"Jim" was the team's regular diver as well as being the squad's record-breaking breast-stroker. Placed 7th in 100 yd. breast stroke in Ill. state swim meet. THOMAS FELSECKER—"Tom" was the number two diver and will take Anderson's place come next season. RUDOLPH BUCKNER—"Rudy" free-styled and was on the relay teams and always swam a good race. LUCIEN TRIMBUR—"Trimbur" was also a free-styler and will be back next season to add to his laurels. WILLIAM ARCHER—"Bill" was undoubtedly the fastest stroker on the squad and was good for points in every meet. HERMAN MOORE—"Herman" was aided in his free style races by a person named Lucy who cheered him on to victory. MYROSLOW PURKO—"Purko" was always a hard worker and never missed a night of practice. RICHARD EBY—"Dick" will be back to fill Anderson's trunks in the breast stroke event when next season comes. MERVIN KEDROWSKI—"Marv's" experience as a life guard during the summer helped him to earn points. HAROLD JENNINGS—"Jennings" was one manager that Coach Kelly would like to keep as a "steady."

WRESTLERS SHOW GOOD MORALE

With the loss of six regulars of the 1939-40 wrestling squad the grapplers were greatly handicapped. Coach Potts had a group of boys who had in spirit what they lacked in brawn. The ten losses of the season do not tell the entire story, for the boys were always scrapping and giving their best.

Lettermen who earned their share of points were:

RAYMOND KMAK—"Ray" was high-point man of the squad and was elected honorary captain by his teammates. JACK SOLOMON—"Jack" was the small boy of the team, but could always be depended on for a good showing. PHILLIP ADAMKIEWICZ—"Phillip" went out for wrestling so he would be able to handle the football team next fall. JOHN VEZMAR—"Johnny" was a small boy with plenty of the old spirit. LEO HODUR—"Leo" showed his stuff on the mat and earned enough points for his monogram. MATTHEW AUGUSTYNEK—"Mickey" went out and tamed his wild opponents. BEN NONDORF—"Ben" graduated in February but contributed his points. WALLACE COSGROVE—"Horse" was the biggest boy on the squad and went out to die for dear old Ireland in every match. LEO SMITH—"Leo" was a fine and dependable manager.

GIRLS ENJOY GOOD YEAR

Golly, another year gone. I can't understand where the time goes. Why it doesn't seem like more than a month ago when we were playing volleyball. There were ninety of us then.

I'll never forget that tournament. The seniors had a tough time nosing out the juniors for the championship. The score was 35 to 30. With Berger and Heimbuch in there slugging away at the ball the seniors had a deuce of a time.

Even the frosh had a good team. Lila Mae Winterhoff made so many practically impossible returns that she was placed on the volleyball varsity. And that's plenty good for a freshman.

Then came captain basketball. Jeepers, that was fun. That tournament was the upset of the year. The juniors plowed right through the seniors to take the championship by a score of 35 to 23. There was a lot of spirit in that game — what with Dorothy Becker and Virginia Fedosky. Becker made a total of 20 points in the tournament and Fedosky made 13 points. They were the high scorers on their teams.

Gee whiz, those tournament games were terrific! The sophomore team certainly was a surprise outfit. The first night they tied the seniors. After two overtimes the game was played over. Then in the juniors' first game, against the freshmen, Nelda Berger sprained her ankle. That put her out for the rest of the season. Then when the sophomores played the downcast juniors, the surprise soph team, with Abby Abblett and Jeanette Klein sinking baskets right and left, broke through to win by a score of 14 to 9. Well, that messed it all up for the juniors. Then the next night the sophomores and seniors tangled again. Something must have happened to the senior team because it played as it had never played before. Leona Kowalski made 11 of the 17 points scored against the sophomores. Then came the junior-senior game. The seniors knew they had to win this game if they wanted to have their names printed on the cup given at the end of the year. Well, Anne Soczyk with her 15 points made sure the seniors would win. And they did, 29 to 18. It was a great day for the seniors.

The high-point "men" of the tournament were Soczyk with 25 points, Kowalski, with 23 points and Becker with 20 points. On the soph team Abblett and Klein each made 19 points.

Then there were those G.A.C. meetings. They were a lot of fun. We would come into Room 121 and Dorothy Becker, recording secretary, would pass out tickets on which we wrote our names. Then the meeting would be called to order.

Helen Ernst would call on the secretary for the minutes and then on the treasurer for her report. Next she would say, "Any old business?" —— No answer. "Any new business?" —— Still no answer. "The meeting is adjourned!"

We all flocked out of the room with our noses in our Thorntonians, ready to dress for practice.

There were four outstanding seniors this year, too. They were the only ones to get major letters. The lucky "gals" were Helen Ernst, president, Dorothy Becker, recording secretary, Leona Kowalski, secretary, and Anne Soczyk.

Miss Jaacks pulled a fast one on us this year at the initiation party. She awarded minor letters to four juniors, Nelda Berger, Virginia Fedosky, Harriet Drabek, and Nora Heimbuch.

Then we had the G. A. C. banquet in the latter part of May. There were a lot of alumnae present. That successful party wound up a perfect year with G. A. C.

It was a great year for the Terrapin members. Yessiree! For one thing we took second place in the telegraphic meet. Elizabeth Stasiak and Faye Sausaman were primarily responsible for our good showing. Elizabeth took first place in the twenty yard back stroke by trying the standing record of 12.5 seconds. Not bad, heh?

Then we had a very successful water carnival in May. The stands were packed. We gave them a show worth seeing! Elizabeth Hesselbarth, president of Terrapin club, was Tarzan and Lillian Horst was Tarzette. They sure were cute.

Kay Bertram and Virginia Fedosky were "octopusseses" with long tentacles reaching out, grasping everything within reach. It sure was a swell show for only 15c.

Our meetings were almost as short as the G.A.C. meetings. Peany would call the meeting to order and immediately call on Abby Abblett, the Secretary-Treasurer to call the roll, read the minutes and give the treasurer's report. Then we would discuss our splash party and banquet.

Nothing else to talk about so we would adjourn and then jump into the pool.

If only some scientist would devise some way to go swimming without getting wet!—Oh well, just wishful thinking.

IT'S NOT FOR SISSIES

by Gladys Leedy

Resolved: That debating is a perilous activity. First, there are two terms that merit definition. By debating we refer to the high school activity coached by Mr. Allen, which teaches the art of systematized argument. By perilous we mean both dangerous and unsafe.

At this time we will present the two points on which we base our case: "Every platform appearance is a trial," and the dangers of traveling are tremendous.

Now let us look more closely at our first point. Every platform appearance is a trial. I could cite many authorities on this subject but I choose to quote only two. Wilfred Kraegel, well known varsity debater, tells of the humiliation of losing his voice on the platform and the scolding he received from his colleague for being so careless. I also quote Flossie Lynn, who is still nursing the wounds received from the burning glances of the Hammond High male debaters, when she said, "It ain't safe, that's all." I am sure that I have proved my point, that a debate platform is not a healthy place to be.

Secondly, the journeys made by the debaters are no less hazardous. I need only bring to your attention the trip to Augustana College in Rock Island, Illinois. After surviving all difficulties in getting on their way, Mr. Allen, accompanied by the affirmative spent many anxious minutes in a stalled car waiting for Mr. Davis and the negative to catch up. Then followed the none-too-pleasant tow to the next gasoline station, where Mr. Allen, sprang from his car and tore the leg half out of his trousers on a piece of wire. Precious time was wasted but not peacefully because little Mr. Davis succeeded in flooring such big boys as Albert Wahlgren and Edgar Thedens in a jiu-jitsu contest.

On their way again, fate was with them. They arrived at Rock Island a little after midnight. On second thought, fate wasn't with them; they had to stay at the hotelwith elevators, slippery tile floors and everything. Why it wasn't even safe in bed. Just ask Bob Biederman, for Billy Gibbons kicked him out onto that cold, slippery floor!

This trip was indeed dangerous but it was child's play compared to the ride down to La Porte, Indiana. That was on the day after a terrific snow storm and it was all one could do to keep the car on the road.

I could go on and on presenting such information but you undoubtedly agree with me by this time that debating is a perilous activity.

I GO ON THE AIR

by Jeanne O'Connor

"Gee whiz, why did Miss Moe have to ask me to be on this radio program? I don't know anything about the Commercial Club; I'm a G. A. C. member.

"Oh, I'm scared. Gosh, look at that clock, only 14 minutes and 33 seconds to go and we'll be on the air. My voice would be hoarse today. That game was so exciting last night I thought I'd yell my lungs out.

"Oh, oh here comes that good looking announcer. I'd better listen to what he has to say—Gee, we can use only one microphone. How will we ever be able to get close enough? There are about seven of us. Oh well, I don't have much to do anyway.

"Five minutes and three seconds now. Why doesn't that clock hurry up so we can get this thing over with? I wonder if Bob is going to listening in. I hope so.

"I'd better get my script ready. It won't be long now. Gee, why is my face getting so hot? I hope I don't faint. Gulp—wouldn't that be awful! Who would take my part? My throat is getting so funny. It's all tight. Golly, I wonder if I'll be able to—slam the door—you see, I'm sound effects man."

A WART ON HIS NOSE

by Kay Bertram

This is Cicero, your favorite Latin writer, talking to you from the grave, through the courtesy of the CHRONOSCOPE. Jupiter! What a name I have! In the first place it means wart and because one of my ancestors had a wart on his nose they had to stick the name on the whole family. And now I hear that fancy Latin teachers, Jupiter forgive them, have decided it should be pronounced Kickero!

I'm not complaining, but the way some modern Latin students translate my oration against Cataline is a crime. I pass over this thing as unimportant. But—students misinterpret half of what I wrote. By their transactions I often wonder whether it was Cataline or I who was on trial. They go too far, though, when they begin to compare that lying fellow with their modern criminals. By Mars, he had a slicker idea than any of them, and it took me to trap him.

Oh well! I should worry, they really have to slave to get that much sense out of any of my orations. Guess I'll sign off now.

This is Marcus Tullius Cicero turning over in his grave.

THE OLD SHAVING MUG

(A Sonnet)

by Helen Van Osten

There on the shelf I lie, low and supine,

Head bent in shame and woe, glory bedimmed,

Once so magnificent, by artist limned,

Now lost in memory of former time.

What now means precedence or prior right,

To me the first in line, ever the best?

I sit in dim seclusion with the rest

And memory alone keeps my face bright.

A sudden noise stirs up the silent dust

I welcome the arrival of a friend.

"Maybe," thinks I, "we'll have a grand old bust,

With whitish foam"—I try hard to pretend,

But woe is me, they tell me I am just

An old, old shaving mug, at journey's end.

ODE TO A FORSAKEN CANINE

by Hill

Oh, thou, who art best friend of man,
Who roamest through the halls where e'er you can,
Whose sad and lonely eyes look up in mute appeal
At some kind-hearted student Who, perhaps, wilt give to thee a meal.
But oh—the tragedy of it all
If whilst roaming through these silent halls
(A teacher should espy and quickly seize,
"Get out, you doggone dog— You're full of fleas!")

ODE TO FRIDAY'S FISH

by Hill

Oh, thou finny denizens of the boundless deep,
Whom we did waken from a peaceful sleep,
To nestle for our gourmet's taste all crisp and brown
With salad and French fries spread all around,
Blessings upon thy firm and snow-white flesh,
(Phew! how you smell
I bet you're not fresh!)

IF—(A Sonnet)

by Tom Shaffer

If I could change the elements on earth,

These wintry blasts would come to blow no more,

To freeze our trees and shut us in our door,

And keep us hovering around the hearth,

From early fall till spring has found rebirth,

I'd rule ole Sol's warm beams because each day, I know

There'd be no rain, no wind, no storms, or snow,

To make this all too short a life on earth,

Two seasons of each year, a glorious field of green,

Or trees full leafed, and lilting songs of birds ,

I'd stop all time, there'd be no night—just days

To spend in pleasant hours of thought and dream,

Of every living moment all too grand for words.

"Hold it—Oh, put more oomph into it—think of your boy friends, girls — Come — vat's your name? Virginia Fedosky come up here next to me —isn't she cute, boys? Now let me see—the short onss in front—here you hold this—Don't let it fall—Yea, you over there pull down the shade—Wup, wait till I comb my hair —OK all set—don't move—there, got it—that's going to be pretty good—lighting was just right. Come on let's make dis one different—you sit like that —no turn sideways a little more—you look that way—hmmm, your profile's not bad —Why sure, you boys can stand in the back—here you go back there too—stand still or those chairs will fold up and we don't want any broken legs —Why sure—that light's just right—Let's see, I'll move you over here—nope, guess you're taller—Miss Moe put your 110 pounds on the end of that desk and move it that way a little bit—whoa that's enough—vat you say there's no flash light bulb in it—now if you had been looking the way I told you, you wouldn't notice things like that—there, that's it—now everybody sit still—you over there look at the girl along side of you—where did you say I should go next? Down to the swimming pool to take a picture of the Terrapin Club—isn't that those girl swimmers—well, what are we waiting for? Lead the way—the boy with the green sweater carry that suitcase—Joe, bring the lights."

And so Mr. Bodie takes the pictures for this year's Chronoscope.

ODE TO A RELUCTANT FOUNTAIN

by Hill

As thou standest in the wall
Receiving encouragement from us all
Thy liquid stream of life is flowing
To keep our students, on warm days, going
But as they bend and strive to get
Refreshment from thy aqua fair
Thou dost renig and they are met.
With spacious quantities of air!

PA'S FORD (A Sonnet)

by Peany Hesselbarth

Remember when we always used to see

The Ford with roof so high and tire so small

And Pa would use the crank in case we stalled?

Ah, yes! Those mem'ries are so dear to me!

And all those times Pa would misplace the key,

And in the search we all would shout and call,

And Ma would find it in Pa's overall?

And then we'd all pile in and laugh and be

Glad that we all were now upon our way

To see the wonders of the County Fair

Where we would eat and laugh and play all day,

And all the boys would try to sneak off where

The side shows showed the girls in "thin" array

And then we'd all go home glad to be there?

POOL BLUES

by Hill

'Brrr!! It's cold. Gee, I wish I didn't have to go in today. That water sure looks cold. Think I'll see coach; maybe he'll let me stay out if I pull the old sob act. Hy, Coach. Huh? Why ain't I going in? Why, ah-er-ah, you see coach, I—. Huh? Huh? But listen, coach, I got a pain in my stomach. Yeh, that's it. I've got a stomach ache. (Gulp) what's that? Go see Doc Bascomb and get an excuse? Maybe he ain't here yet. I should wait? Oh, all right—gimme the old pass.

Hy, Doc, I want an excuse from swimming. I got a stomach ache. Yeh, Doc, it hurts somethin' awful. If I went in swimmin' I'd drown sure. Hey, whatcha' doing Doc? You mixin' that up for me? No, Doc, you don't have to go to all that trouble. No, Doc, never —never mind — I guess I'll be gettin' back to swimming,— no, Doc—I feel fine—goodbye, Doc.

"Hy, Coach. Yeh, I'm going in. You know, the minute I stepped in Doc's office the pain in my stomach went away. Can you beat it???

("Brrr!! It still looks cold!")

TERRAPINS

by Bertram

(Any of various edible North American turtles—family Testudinidae—living in fresh or brackish water.)

"Shades above, it's 3:45. I was supposed to be swimming ten minutes ago. From now on I'll talk to HIM for only five minutes. This water ballet is getting me down. I've swallowed more water practising for it for one week than goes over Boulder Dam in a month.

"Where is that towel girl? Mary—Mareeeeeee! Oh, I can get it later. Shut up kids, I can't hear myself think. Who's got a cap I can borrow? Aw come on, you've got two caps. Your hair will be wet anyway. I'll write your make-up paper for you, kid. Gee thanks! You're so generous. Don't think I will take a shower today; it's too cold when you get out. Oh! help, oh—! No silly. I'm not dying. This suit is just wet and colder than— Was that the whistle? See, I am late now.

"Water is actually warm today. Stop splashing, Peany! It's not that warm.

TERRAPINS

"Glug, glug, blub! Lookout, you're drowning me! Besides I'm not supposed to be holding you up. That's all right now. Of course I can scull! Only you're choking me to death with your feet around my neck that tight. Puff, splutter. Not much more to do. Let me see, waltz, one-two-three, one-two oh! are we supposed to change to backstroke? O. K. take it easy I'm coming.

"Whee, was that a workout! Is my hair wet, Betty? Good I won't dive anymore, then it will look good tonight, I've got a heavy date W— Go through it again! Have a heart I'm dead now, ohhhhhh! You're not? Well, I was only kidding, I'm not really tired.

"Say, we really have fun down here getting ready for the water show. I'm glad I went out for Terrapin Club. Where are my shoes! Can't a guy have any privacy around here?"
